GOOD GAMES FOR SATURDAY-SUNDAY

MILITARY SERIES AT THE LEAGUE GROUNDS

Diamond Heads and J. A. Cs. to Play Fourth Game at Athletic Park—Asahis and Muhocks in Preliminary.

On Saturday and Sunday there will be plenty of baseball, and both the military league games and that between the Diamond Heads and J. A. Cs. will be played. The service men will play at the league grounds on Saturday, and on Sunday the Athletic Park will be the scene of the struggle between the Jewels and Japanese.

Tomorrow the Marines and Fort Shafter will hook up, and a fine game is anticipated, as the Shafter are playing in a winning streak at present and they are determined to take the scalp of the half-wets. The Camp Very boys, on the other hand, swear that no road-pounders can take their goat, and the consequence is that a red-hot game is surely going to be played.

The second game will be between the N. G. H. and the Fifth Cavalry, and here again is the material for a snoring game. The Guards are improving day by day, and as soon as the men all get accustomed to one another and know each other's play, the Barry aggregation will be a strong one. The Fighting Fifth are also playing good ball this season, and their southpaw pitcher is the real candy kid in the twirling line of business. The lads from Leliehua mean to just about win out in the military series, and there are many who think that they will. Both games should be well worth watching, and the fans will probably be treated to some exciting ball before the games are won and lost.

Then on Sunday the fourth game of the inter-league series will be played, and the Diamond Heads and J. A. Cs. will go up against one another. The Jewels have won two games out of three, so far, and if the Japanese capture tomorrow's game, the seniors and juniors will be tied, with two games each. The game should be a close one, and the fans will be kept guessing all the time.

There will be the usual preliminary game between the Asahis and the Mu Hocks before the big game starts, and the minor players will be sure to put up a good exhibition of ball. The Athletic Park diamond has been fixed up and should be better than ever. Everything points to a fine day at last, and the regular park fans will no doubt roll up in their oldtime style and root for their respective teams.

The first game on Sunday will start at 1:30 o'clock, and the second at 3:30. If the time the second game is started, the grandstand should be crowded with fans, and there will doubtless be some tail-rooting done during the afternoon.

GOOD PLAY LAST NIGHT AT MANOA

MRS. COULTER WINS IN MIXED DOUBLES MATCH

Mrs. John Waterhouse Shows Fine Form With the Racquet—Many Spectators Watch the Matches Until Late Hour.

There is no doubt about the popularity of night tennis, and one would have imagined a regular daylight tournament was being played last night, when the big crowd was seen around the Manoa court, where several good matches were played.

The big lights worked fairly well, although at times there were flickers that disturbed the aim of the players and made them make clean misses of easy balls. It was also noticed that fast serves were much more deadly than the same pace would have been in daylight.

However, some fine tennis was seen, and at times the rallies were long and exciting. Every car that came from town conveyed a bunch of tennis enthusiasts, and by nine o'clock there was a big bunch seated and standing around the courts.

The opening match last night was that between Wall-Giffard and Singlehurst-Beardmore. The former pair won two sets straight—6-4, 6-2, and the first set, especially, was a fine one. Singlehurst played up in great style, and the first set should have gone to him and his partner if they had had the slightest bit of luck.

The second match was that between Atherton-Richards-Clark and Patten-Schmidt. This was about the easiest thing ever seen in a tennis match, and it is a pity that Richards and Clark were matched against such a weak pair. The score of 6-0, 6-0, shows what sort of a match it was, and if track had been kept of the strokes the result would have been even worse. Young Richards played well, and his service was deadly to his opponents. He and his partner should be able to give the other pair a tremendous handicap and then win easily.

The two matches cleared the way for the game of the evening, and when Mrs. Coulter and Wall tackled Mr. and Mrs. John Waterhouse, everybody settled down to see some fine tennis. And no one was disappointed, as after the first few games the play became brilliant, and the two ladies, especially, did some fine work. Mrs. Waterhouse did remarkably well, and her low cutting strokes scored time and time again. Her partner also played brilliantly, and except for "poaching" a little too much, did excellent work. The first set was just a toss-up as to which pair won, and the spectators loudly applauded all the good strokes.

Mrs. Coulter appeared to take things easy at the start, and her service was very soft. However, as soon as she saw that the Waterhouse pair were going to make a close finish of the match, the champion began to show something like her true form. Her service became faster and she scored many a point outright with it. The first set went to Wall and his partner, 6-4, and the second, which was not so hotly contested, also was won by the same pair, 6-1.

Another match that raised the spectators to a pitch of excitement was that between R. A. and C. H. Cooke, who defeated Castle and Low two sets straight, 8-6, 6-2.

The last match of the evening was that between Steere-Nowell and Habbitt-Waterhouse, and it went the three full sets before it was decided. The first set went to Steere and Nowell, 7-5, and then Habbitt and Waterhouse turned round and defeated the other pair, 6-3. The third and deciding set was won by Steere and his partner, and they made a runaway affair of it, winning 6-1.

The games this evening will be: R. B. Booth and H. S. Gray vs. Atherton-Richards and Clark; Miss Lucy Ward and H. B. Giffard vs. Miss Sewall and A. M. Nowell; W. A. Wall and H. B. Giffard vs. C. H. Cooke and R. A. Cooke; F. E. Steere and A. M. Nowell vs. C. R. Hemenway and C. H. Olson.

SCHOOL SPORTS AT ALIOLANI COLLEGE

Fine Program of Events Will Be Pulled Off This Afternoon at Kaimuki.

This afternoon at the Aliolani College grounds, Kaimuki, the postponed sports will be held, and an attractive program has been arranged. The lads have been preparing for the meet for a long time now, and although most of the boys were ready and fit to compete last month, when the events were scheduled to come off, they have all kept up their training and feel good enough to make records today.

There will be open events which should attract a large entry list, and they are as follows: Throwing baseball, fifty-yard dash, 100-yard dash, high jump, half-mile handicap, pole vault, relay race and sack race. Then for the boys under fourteen years of age the following program has been drawn up: High jump, 100-yard dash, 600-yard handicap, and a sack race. The sack races should provide much amusement for the spectators, and the lads who compete should be just as much tickled.

The races for the very small boys will be as follows: 220-yard handicap, for under twelve years; 100-yard handicap, under ten; and 100-yard handicap, under eight years of age. The prizes will be distributed immediately after the events are all finished.

WAHILANI AND M'COLLOUGH MATCHED TO FIGHT

Jack McFadden to Manage Boxing Show—Two Preliminaries Will Also Be Put On.

Jonathan McFadden is branching out into the boxing promoting game, and he will make his bow as a manager within a week or two. Jack knows all about the game and has had much experience both in the ring as a principal and outside as a second.

The first of McFadden's shows will bring together two men who for a long time have been talked of as star performers. Wahilani, the well-known pug who has knocked out more men than any other boxer in Honolulu, will at last have a go at "Ironman" McCollough, and there is going to be a treat for all the fans when these two men meet one another.

For a long time the native lad has been resting on his oars, hoping for a match with someone, but something always happened at the last moment and he has not been able to step into the ring for a long time.

Wahilani and Coll were supposed to box at Leliehua tomorrow night, but that stunt has been knocked on the head. Instead, Sarconi and Friedman will box at Schofield Barracks on Tuesday night next.

Jack McFadden is figuring on a couple of preliminaries to the main attraction, and full particulars will be announced in a day or so. The chief thing of interest is that McCollough and Wahilani are to sign articles tonight for a fifteen-round go, and that is good news to the fight fans.

lulu will be staged. The managers of the show are hourly adding to the program, and it is expected that there will be three hours' solid fun and amusement handed out by the amateurs.

The affair is to be a real society show, and as the object of the performance is to raise funds for fitting out the yacht Hawaii for the trans-Pacific race, it is to be hoped that a bumper house will attend on the evening of April 26.

James Dougherty is working hard on the proposition, and the rest of the entertainment committee of the yacht club are also doing their best to raise the necessary amount to insure the success of the Honolulu part of the yacht race.

It is to be hoped that the people of Hawaii respond in every possible way to the appeal of the yachtmen of Honolulu who are trying to advertise the islands in the best possible way by the yacht race.
